FACULTY SENATE MINUTES

October 5, 2020

3:00 – 4:00 pm

Zoom Meeting

Call to Order - Timothy Taylor

Approval of Minutes – September 8, 2020

Minutes approved as distributed.

University Business - Noelle Cockett, President | Frank Galey, Provost

Provost Galey – Reminded everyone regarding the request from John Mortensen and the AIS team to notify them of the type of class presentation that faculty will be using for the spring semester. The deadline for this information is November 9. On November 16 registration will be opened for the students. By moving the start date for spring semester back a week this provides one extra week to get everything up to speed and loaded. All faculty members will be receiving an email providing a streamlined protocol to help them deal with students in isolation or quarantine. There has been some confusion and it is the hope of the president and provost that this will help clear things up. Will be providing a list of quarantined or isolated students in Canvas. Hoping soon to have more testing available for students, faculty, and staff. Faculty Senators need to go back to their colleagues and remind them we are going to remote classes after Thanksgiving. Faculty should plan to give final exams during finals week.

President Cockett – Working hard to get information about COVID, including both numbers and information on how to get tested. Had hoped that broad scale testing would open today but need more validation and it is anticipated that this will happen on either Thursday or Friday. The university community can self-schedule for these tests. HTTPS://aggiehealth.usu.edu can be used to self-schedule the testing. Results are usually back within 24 hours but for sure within 48 hours. Only individuals with active A#s will be tested. The location for testing will be in the parking lot on the south east side of Maverick stadium (near distribution). All statewide campuses have local testing options rather than shipping them to Logan. President Cockett reminded everyone that the VSIP deadline has passed. She stated that if one of those options did not fit an individual that they could go to their vice president or dean and see if there are any other recommendations. Watch email for an announcement regarding the allowance to carry over 5 additional annual leave days into the next year. In conversations with other Utah High Ed institutions the president said that it appears that the institutions are planning their spring semesters to be delivered like those for fall. The state legislature is not currently showing decreases in tax revenue. Looking into getting increases next year from the legislature. Need to be careful on increases on tuition, student fees, and differential tuition. Going to be difficult to increase any of those beyond salary increases and promotion and tenure.
